DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claim 6 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 4 of U.S. Patent No. US 6,531,898.

Claims matching
10/826,263	US patent 6,531,898
6	1 and 4

It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the 898' patent with the measuring instrument comprising an output indicator as disclosed in 10/826,263 for the purpose of viewing the output result.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McKim, Jr (US 6,531,898) in view of Canter (US 5,053,695).

As to claim 6, McKim discloses a source having a impedance and connected to a load, the source comprising:

a detection circuit (14, of fig 6) to determine whether a current flow through the impedance is load induced or source induced;

a processing circuit (18, of fig 6) to perform an operation based upon whether the current flow is load induced or source induced. wherein the source, the DC offset elimination circuit, and the output impedance circuits are not included

However; McKim fails to disclose the remainder of the system is a measuring instrument further comprising an output indicator which indicates whether the current flow is source-induced or load-induced.

On the other hand, Canter disclose (fig 1) the remainder of the system is a measuring instrument further comprising an output indicator (18) which indicates whether the current flow is source-induced or load-induced for the purpose of viewing the output result.

It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify McKim patent with the measuring instrument comprising an output indicator as disclosed in Canter for the purpose of viewing the output result.
